The Carter Center Internship Program has provided a rich and rewarding complement to classroom experience for nearly 2,000 interns for more than 20 years. During that time, the program has gained an international reputation for nurturing skills, knowledge, and commitment that shape participants’ educations and careers.

Interns come to The Carter Center from universities throughout the world and make significant contributions to our efforts to wage peace, fight disease, and build hope for the world’s most disadvantaged people. In addition to supporting the Center’s important work, interns learn through a series of educational programs, through mentoring by program staff, and through interactions with a talented group of intern peers. The unique opportunities provided by the Carter Center internship program consistently place it on The Princeton Review’s list of top internship programs.

The Carter Center
The Carter Center is a not-for-profit, nongovernmental organization founded in 1982 in Atlanta, Ga., by Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter in partnership with Emory University. The Center seeks to wage peace, fight disease, and build hope in a world where people live every day under difficult, life-threatening conditions caused by war, disease, and famine. The ultimate goal is to help create a world where every man, woman, and child has the opportunity to enjoy good health and live in peace.
