

The Seventeenth Annual Georgia Undergraduate Art History Forum

Call For Papers

The Department of Art & Design at LaGrange College will host the Seventeenth Annual Art History Forum, Friday, March 2, 2018 from 9:30 am to 1:30 pm.

We invite undergraduate art history students from all Georgia colleges and universities to submit proposals for papers to be read at the forum. Papers treating any topic in the history of art from all disciplines are welcome. Submit by e-mail an abstract of no more than two double-spaced pages by January 26, 2018. Only one proposal per student, please. Include your paper title, name, address, e-mail address, phone number, name of your supervising professor, and your academic affiliation.

Digital projection and screens will be provided. You should bring a CD or thumb drive arranged in a power point presentation. Papers are strictly limited to 20 minutes.

E-mail abstract to Dorothy Joiner (djoiner@lagrange.edu) and Nathan Rees (nrees@westga.edu)

Sponsored by

The Georgia Undergraduate Art History Consortium through the cooperation of

University of West Georgia

LaGrange College

Georgia College & State University

University of Georgia

Georgia Southern University

Valdosta State University

North Georgia College & State University

Armstrong Atlantic State University

Wesleyan College

Georgia State University

Emory University

Columbus State University

Program Chairs

Dorothy Joiner, LaGrange College

Rita Tekippe, University of West Georgia

Nathan Rees, University of West Georgia

Lai Orenduff, Valdosta State Univ.

Ana Pozzi-Harris, North GA Coll. & State Univ.

Libby Bailey, Wesleyan College

Maria Gindhart, Georgia State University

Deborah Jamieson Armstrong State University

All faculty, students, and others interested in art history are encouraged to attend the forum, which seeks to celebrate student achievements in the discipline and to provide an opportunity to share recent research by undergraduate students.

► PLEASE POST ◀