Message from the President

It was good to see so many of US at OUR January meeting. WE continued the trend for attendance records, and membership now is at 460. There were so many people involved in making the meeting successful that I can't thank them all but WE owe a collective 'thank you' to Mike Dillon for increasing the quality and quantity of exhibitors; to Bud Cooper for heading up the work of the Education Committee and providing US with an other outstanding program with top quality speakers; and finally to Kelli Sabiston who has provided YOUR association with intelligent, practical, and passionate leadership for the past three and a half years as OUR President.

At OUR January meeting OUR new Secretary, Paul Higgs, assumed his duties and OUR Treasurer will continue to be J.C. Anderson; in the fall WE voted to split the duties of the Secretary/Treasurer. Dana Cravey now has my old job and is OUR new Vice-President. Let's all thank a couple of members of OUR association, Greg Marr and Lloyd Knott who stepped up to the plate and offered their services to US by running for these offices as well.

WE have many exciting things on the stove and hopefully by the SEATA meeting in March some of these will be finished products. To give you a glimpse of what YOUR Executive Council has been working on...Athletic Trainer Day at the capital (March 7th) and a proclamation by Governor Barnes; a partnership with the Georgia State Games that may include an opportunity for FREE CEU's; a formal relationship with the Georgia High School Activities Association; GATA newsletter via email/web page; a fund raising raffle to be held at SEATA; the Warren Morris Golf Tournament; eBay fundraising; however none of these activities are as exciting or as important to the future of YOUR association as 'Buried Treasure'.

What, you ask, is 'Buried Treasure'? It will touch every member of OUR association. WE will not have the opportunity to get involved with something of the magnitude of 'Buried Treasure' for another 4-5 years. In 2001, 'Buried Treasure' will follow OUR success of HB 93 in 1999, & HB 1187 in 2000; only the GATA could make 'Buried Treasure' work. YOU are the key to 'Buried Treasure' because YOU ARE the 'Buried Treasure'

If you are getting this newsletter, a very special person has molded your professional life in ways you may never realize or recognize. I hope your personal life has been shaped by him also; mine has been. If you know Jerry Rhea I don't need to write any more. If you don't know him, I can't write enough. Jerry, from OUR hearts, WE ALL thank you and wish you the absolute very best.

See you at SEATA--call me if you need me,
Tom Bair
President

REGION I REPORT--Tim Agan MS, ATC

It was great to see so many of you at our annual meeting. There seemed to be exceptionally good attendance from the Athens area, so three cheers for you ladies and gentlemen. We missed Warren but we know he is there for us. As far as region news, you have been very quiet since the annual meeting. Hopefully that is a good sign that your concerns were answered at the meeting and things are going well.

Our reimbursement advisory committee met with Georgia Link on January 23, and I apologize that I was unable to represent you at that meeting. My daughter was passing strep around the house and I learned that I had made the interception on the 22nd. Bruce Getz will be forthcoming with how that meeting went.

Raising funds to continue our relationship with our lobbyists (GA. Link) continues to be one of the most important issues we face at present. Once again the exceptional nature of our membership was demonstrated as several sought to make their donations immediately after the need was announced. This will certainly be an ongoing effort, so support it in any way you can. As you may know, the Legislature is in session through March. This is the time they are working the hardest for us and are most vital to us. We certainly don't want to drop the ball on this one.

Last but not least, Region I would like to congratulate Donald and Tara Brown on his new position at Emory-Cartersville and their new position as parents of 2 children in the near future.

As always, feel free to contact me, if you have any news to be posted in the next newsletter, or other matter I can help you with: (770) 386-6300, fax (770) 382-0971, or e-mail at XLATC@aol.com. God bless.

REGION II REPORT—Diane King ATC/ Greg Marr ATC

It was great to see old friends and new faces at the GATA meeting in January. It is quite apparent we have grown again with our membership in the state. For those of you who are new, or missed the meeting the District 2 reps are Diane King (hkingdking@aol.com) and Greg Marr (funnyfarmers@yahoo.com). We are interested in helping everyone in the Metro Atlanta area stay connected to what's going on – legislatively, fund raising, networking, and just getting re-acquainted with everyone.

A big thanks to Mike Redd and Ashley Dolan for trying to put together an Examiner Training Workshop in December at Kennesaw State University. Unfortunately, not enough people signed up to come and it had to be cancelled. Remember, the Goal of the BOC is to have all ATCs complete this workshop. Many people still complain about why there are no CEUs given for this course. The answer remains, as the Test Site Administrators understand it, that by becoming involved in the exam process you are supporting (and advancing) the profession of athletic training. All persons who have become certified athletic trainers should want to better their profession by being a part of the process that is intended to strengthen the group, and this is one way of fulfilling that goal. And while you do not receive CEUs for the workshop, each time you help administer the exam, you do receive 0.5 CEUS. The test is offered in and around the Atlanta area 5 times a year (3 in Atlanta, 1 in Macon, and 1 in Columbus) so all ATCs are encouraged to take part in this process. The next two opportunities to complete this workshop will be coming up quickly. On February 24, a course is offered in Columbus, and on March 23, a course is offered during the SEATA meeting. If you have questions, comments, concerns, you can contact staff@nataboc.org, workshop facilitator Dana Cravey or Test Site Administrators Bud Cooper, Jennifer Branchcomb or Diane King.

Another big thanks to Ashley White, who tirelessly staffed the GATA booth at the Peach Bowl football Experience. Hopefully next year, we can encourage a little more involvement, especially from our other collegiate representatives.

REGION III REPORT-- Heath Mills, ATC

Hello to everyone in Region 3. I hope all is well and you are not too busy. On February 9 - 10 The GHSA AAAAA State Wrestling Championships will be held at the Georgia National Fairgrounds and Agricenter. Athletic Trainers From ATARI Sports Medicine and The Hughston Clinic will be on site providing medical coverage for the event. Also the GHSA State Basketball Championships will be held at the Macon Coliseum and Centraplex and at Westside High School on March 1- 10. ATARI Sports Medicine will be providing medical coverage for the games. If you have any medical questions concerning either event you can contact Tommy "Tee" Spinks at 478-474-0240 or Geoff Aulds at 478-953-3173. If anyone has any questions, concerns, or information concerning the GATA please contact me at 478-953-3173 or by e-mail at FHMILLSATC@cs.com.

REGION IV REPORT-- Philip Pieplow, ATC

The region representative for Region IV is Philip K Pieplow, ATC/L, Head Athletic Trainer, Lowndes High School, Valdosta, GA, 31602, Email: ppieplow@lowndes.k12.ga.us. Please contact me if you are interested in information or materials for National Athletic Trainer's Month next month or have any ideas for the month. Also, please contact me if they have ideas for a GATA fundraiser in our area.

PUBLIC RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Andrew Graham ATC/L

We have updated the GATA display board and made it as universal as we possibly could. I would like to thank Lori Mobley from Woodward Academy and Ashley White from Agnes Scott for their input and assistance. We are still in need of pictures and articles from various work settings. This will broaden our capabilities when displaying the board. Our goal was to create a display board that the GATA and its members could use for every setting and occasion. If you would like to use the board or have an event in your area that you feel the GATA needs to have a presence at, please do not hesitate to contact myself.

We have several events coming up that you are more than welcome to join us at to represent your association. The Georgia Athletic Directors Association meeting being held in Statesboro is April 19th – 20th. The Georgia Athletic Coaches Association conference is in Athens July 9th – 14th. If you live in and around these areas please feel free to join us to help talk about and talk up all the great things that are happening within our association.

Don't forget about Athletic Trainer Day at the Capital on March 7, as well as National Athletic Training Month in March. In the November 2000 NATA news there were public service radio announcements 10, 20, and 30 seconds long. Please feel free to take, fax, e-mail or call your local radio and TV stations and distribute this information.

Lastly, If you could send me a business card via snail mail, with your correct contact information. We are in the process of comprising a state wide networking system. We plan on using this tool to get information to and from the state association members, as well as trying to have more people get involved with the GATA.

ATHLETIC TRAINER REIMBURSEMENT COMMITTEE

Bruce Getz ATC

The Athletic Trainer Reimbursement Committee has been very active in the last several months dealing with the situations that have begun to revolve around the real issue – Athletic Trainers getting reimbursed for their services. It sure feels good to talk about this because this means that it is a reality. We are still fighting the notion that this is all a fairy tale and that it really cannot work. Thanks to all of you that ARE making this a reality. Without you there would be nothing to celebrate.

We continue to see progress in all areas of reimbursement for the Athletic Trainer. There are at least four practice settings that the Athletic Trainer is having success in. The private rehabilitation clinic, the rehabilitation department in the hospital setting, the physician's office and the industrial setting are all enjoying the services of the Athletic Trainer.

The rehabilitation clinics, both private and hospital, are finding that the Athletic Trainer is simply another provider under the rehabilitation umbrella that already exists. We are not reinventing the wheel here. The Athletic Trainer just becomes another revenue producer for the facility.

Credentialing is not an issue either. The Athletic Trainer is credentialed as a provider just like the other clinician in the facility. The same CPT codes are used to describe the service rendered. We will have our own "Evaluation" and "Re-Evaluation" CPT codes in 2002. Until then, the Athletic Trainer can use the Sports Medicine/Athletic Trainer Evaluation code (97799) or the Physical Performance Test code (97750). The hospital based Athletic Trainer has the use of the 951 code from the UB92 committee. This has been available since October 2000.

The Athletic Trainer in the physician's office is a concept that has been around for a long time. There are several Athletic Trainers here in Georgia that are leading the charge in this area. In this setting, the Athletic Trainer becomes a revenue producer for the physician practice. The Athletic Trainer sees patients with the physician and the patient is billed for the services of the Athletic Trainer under physician services. Because the Athletic Trainer is not providing services independent of the physician, as in a rehabilitation setting, the Athletic Trainer does not need to apply for separate credentials. Basically, the Athletic Trainer is acting as a physician extender. (Please read the article in The NATA News, Feb 2001, page 32 "ATC as a Physician Extender: Streamlining Care of Patient Population")

The Athletic Trainer in the Industrial setting is just a slight twist on the traditional (school-based) Athletic Trainer. The Athletic Trainer is employed by, or contracts with, the company. They have a certain number of employees to provide services to. And they take care of the medical needs of the employees. Dr. Hughston calls them "Industrial Athletes". The Athletic Trainer in the industrial setting has been able to show substantial savings to their employer/contractor versus the traditional health care system. All of the rehabilitation and care are done on-site in the "Training Room" that is staffed by the Athletic Trainer. We also have several Athletic Trainers employed in these settings in Georgia.

As you can see, we have a great deal to be proud of when it comes to Athletic Trainer Reimbursement. If you are involved in reimbursement, congratulations. If you are not involved and want to learn more about how to get started, please contact Bruce Getz at 706/576-3352 or bgetz@hughston.com.

HONORS AND AWARDS

Greg Marr, ATC

At the annual meeting the committee awarded three scholarships. The first was the High School, $150.00 to Ashley Stoll of Fayette County High School. Ashley plans on attending either Valdosta State University or Samford University to pursue a career in sports medicine.

Second was the Undergraduate Scholarship for $250.00. This was awarded to Jamie Fulcher, who attends Agnes Scott College in Decatur, Georgia. Jamie plans on obtaining her Master's Degree in Athletic Training.

The final award was the Graduate Scholarship for $400.00. This was awarded to Ashly Lord of Georgia State University. Ashly is currently finishing her Master's degree in Physical Therapy. Ashly is the Head Athletic Trainer for Heard Co. High School in Franklin, Georgia.

Also the committee honored two outstanding professionals in our organization by issuing two inaugural awards. The first award was the Jerry Rhea Certified Athletic Trainer of the Year and this was presented to Mr. Warren Morris of the Morris Center located in Athens, Georgia.

Secondly, The Jack C. Hughston Team Physician of the Year was awarded to Dr. Jack C. Hughston.

The committee would like to congratulate all the recipients for their awards and also to everyone who applied. Please check future newsletters for more information on next year's awards.

BURIED TREASURE PROGRAM

Diane King, ATC

The GATA meeting brought to your attention that we are in need of raising money in order to continue paying for the services of your lobbyist as well as cover other costs that may be incurred over the next few years as we prepare to have our licensure law reviewed. For those of you who were not at the meeting, it breaks down like this: we need $15,000 a year to pay GA LINK their lobbyist fees.

A GATA Emergency Fundraising Committee was formed and is developing a marketing campaign for the membership to use as a guide for how to talk to people about the history and vision of the GATA, and why we need their money to accomplish these goals.

I call it the Buried Treasure program. We know there are plenty of athletic trainers with a lot of talents and creative thoughts. We want to uncover these "treasures" by giving everyone an opportunity to participate in this program. Whether you are a high school athletic trainer in south Georgia, or a big time collegiate athletic trainer, everyone can get involved. In doing so, we create visibility for our profession and educate the public.

In the next few weeks the Executive Council and the Region Reps will be picking teams to get the competition started. Each team member will also pick five other people to be on their team. Sound familiar? If you've never heard of the multi-million dollar Amway Corporation, let me know and I'll give you the briefing. We are working on getting prizes for the top three fundraisers as well as awards for other tiered levels of financial contributions. If you have not been picked by the time SEATA comes to town, let me know and we'll get you hooked up with a team. "Wow!" you say, "I'll just let someone else do the work for me and even if we raise a little less, that will still be enough" NO! The more people we get working together, the less frequently we will have to have a campaign like this. We want to avoid having a car wash every year. We want to raise enough money the first year to last us no less than three years or the program will fail.

How do you raise this money? (Almost) anything goes. Host a non-talent show, have a silent auction, sell Vidalia onions, ask your friends, ask your booster clubs, pass the hat at church. The point is, this money is not going to appear. We have to go out and dig and dig and dig deeper. It can be done and we can have fun doing it. We are the treasure and it's time to share it with others.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE

Bud Cooper, ATC

Program Evaluations from the 2001 meeting indicated that the majority of the attendees liked the format of the meeting. Some recommendations have been suggested regarding more time given to the speakers with less topics have been observed and taken into consideration for next year's meeting. If anyone has further suggestions or topics for the 2002 meeting please pass them on to any of our committee members. The theme for the 2002 meeting will be set by the end of March 2001.

GATA MEMBER NAMED TO OLYMPIC MEDICAL STAFF

Paul Higgs, ATC

Ross Davis, ATC, of Gainesville has always enjoyed working with elite-level athletes. When he left the University of Florida as an Assistant Athletic Trainer in 1995, he wanted to continue working with high-level athletes and began working with the US Canoe/Kayak Team who was in town to train for the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games in Atlanta. He also applied to the United States Olympic Committee (USOC) Volunteer Medical Program, as well as with the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games (ACOG) in hopes of working with more high-caliber athletes during the upcoming Games in Atlanta.

Through ACOG, Ross was able to volunteer in Atlanta on a limited basis. "When I worked in Atlanta, I thought that was it--I have had my Olympic experience." Davis enjoyed working the once in a lifetime event and felt honored to be selected. He was assigned to the canoe/kayak venue. Then another call came--from the USOC.

The USOC sponsors a Volunteer Medical Program for athletic trainers and physicians. Everyone who applies is selected for the first level - two weeks one summer at an Olympic Training Center working with teams based there. Volunteers are evaluated by the staff on their clinical and interpersonal skills and if they make the "cut" are invited back to work with the USOC again. The next level may be the Goodwill Games, the World University Games, the World Youth Games, or the Pan-American Games. Athletic trainers and physicians are again evaluated and the best of the best are selected for the final level: the Olympic Games or Paralympic Games. The USOC pays for all expenses beyond the first level and it provides an excellent opportunity to work with some the best athletes and healthcare professionals in the country. It is truly a great honor to be selected to represent your country in this way.

Ross spent two weeks at the Training Center in Colorado Springs in 1996 following the Olympics in Atlanta. Because of his "performance" there, he was invited to travel with the US Bobsled Team in Europe for two weeks in 1997. The USOC is most interested in how the selected volunteers adapt to new situations, new sports, and new injuries. To advance in the program, volunteers must be very talented as well as very flexible and adaptable. "It is a great experience as an athletic trainer to work with that level of athletes, and I was fortunate to be selected," Davis stated.

Davis was selected for the next level of the Volunteer Medical Program in 1999 when he was invited to be on the medical staff for the Pan-American Games. In the Pan-Am Games, countries from the Western Hemisphere gather every four years to compete in an Olympic-type setting. The Games were held in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada and Ross was once again assigned to work with the canoe/kayak team. The Games last for about three weeks.

The hours are long, often reaching 12-15 hours each day, but the work is very rewarding. "You are there for the athletes, not yourself", Ross stated referring to the spirit of teamwork which overrides everything. Everyone is focused on success and receiving the gold medal.

Davis learned in early December of his selection to the medical staff for the Olympic Games in Sydney. He left August 19 returned home in early October. He was assigned to work with the US Canoe/Kayak team. The canoe/kayak events were located at Penrith Lakes, just outside Sydney. Davis and the athletes of his team spent part of their stay in the Olympic Village and part of the time closer to their venue.

Clearly it is an honor to be selected to the medical staff. The hardest part about going to Sydney is the time commitment. Ross spent about six weeks away from his family while serving his country in this way. His wife, Leslie, is very supportive and appreciates the honor of the selection. "She is very supportive and that helps a lot", Ross said. "The kids don't really understand a lot of what is going on, and it's not always easy to call home from half-way around the world to check on things, but she does a great job taking care of it all while I am on these trips". Ross and Leslie have two children--Presley, 5 and Alexandra, 3.

Davis recommends the Volunteer Medical Program to others, but also recommends getting involved with a national governing body for a particular sport. Ross has been very involved with the US Canoe/Kayak governing body for about 5 years, in addition to his USOC involvement. He feels that his involvement with the team was a factor in his placement in Sydney. "They want someone they know and are comfortable with", Davis explained.

When Ross is not working with the USOC or the Canoe/Kayak team, he is busy at his clinic in Gainesville, Professional Therapy Services. Ross is the manager and co-owner of the clinic as well as a staff athletic trainer. They have 3 locations in and around Gainesville, and provide outreach services to the schools of Hall County at no charge. The clinic has been opened for a little over a year and is doing very well.

At the heart of our profession, athletic training is one person helping another. Through the USOC and the US Canoe/Kayak federation, Ross Davis can help some of the best athletes in the world and be included as one of the "best of the best" in the care of elite-level athletes himself.

VSU Athletic Training Recognition Weekend 2000

Lori Howard, ATC

October 7-8, 2000 was designated as Valdosta State University Sports Medicine/Athletic Training weekend. We wanted to celebrate the profession of athletic training, our education program, our students, faculty, and administration.

The celebration began with a Tailgate Party prior to the VSU vs. Delta State University football game, designated Athletic Training seating at the game and recognition, halftime special recognition of Dr. F.D. Toth, and Dr. Kurt E. Jacobson, MD.

Dr. F.D. Toth, PhD., former Dean of the College of Education, successfully guided the program through three accreditation site visits. His support, knowledge, and commitment to the Sports Medicine/Athletic Training program have been extraordinary. We wish him success as Executive Secretary of the Georgia Professional Standards Commission.

Dr. Jacobson, Head Team Physician, has also been involved in the curriculum since it's inception. While he is an excellent physician and we certainly appreciate the care he provides to the athletic programs, we wanted to highlight his contributions to the education program. We thank him for sharing his knowledge of Sports Medicine with the faculty and students.

On Sunday, October 8, 2000 we hosted picnic for our student athletic trainers and their families.

In 2001 we plan to invite our program alumni and members of the GATA to celebrate with us.

Armstrong Atlantic State University announces two new graduate degree

Programs in Sports Medicine

Kristinn Heinrichs, PhD, PT, SCS, ATC, CSCS

Two new graduate programs are now offered at Armstrong Atlantic State University in Savannah:

1. Entry level athletic training education program
2. Advanced master's degree in sports health science.

Sports Health Science:

Degree Offered: Master of Science in Sports Medicine—sports health science. The program of study for the sports health science degree prepares the student to advance in their chosen field and/or to extend their practice to sports medicine. The program provides an interdisciplinary background in sport and physical activity, with coursework and internship opportunities. Program emphasis areas include: strength and conditioning, exercise science, adult fitness/health promotion, and sport management.

Athletic Training Entry-Level Education Program:

Degree Offered: Master of Science in Sports Medicine—athletic training. The post-baccalaureate athletic training education program utilizes an innovative, practice-based approach to entry-level athletic training education. The small group, clinical case centered courses emphasize problem identification and problem solving to allow students to integrate the pathophysiology, evaluation methods, field management of injuries, treatment approaches, and psychosocial principles into each case. The athletic training education program incorporates course work from health sciences, physical therapy, and physical education in an interdisciplinary approach to entry-level professional education. Students who enter the Athletic Training Program with a baccalaureate degree will enter as graduate students in the masters degree program.

Students who enter the program without a baccalaureate degree will become graduate students after completing the first two semesters of the program and will be awarded both the Bachelor of Science degree and the Master's degree in sports medicine at the time of graduation.
