

PROVIDER NETWORK

There's Always A Provider In Sight.

Neither sole private practice provider networks nor sole retail chain provider networks satisfy everyone. Some people prefer to use the services of a private practice provider, especially if they have a longstanding relationship with a family eye doctor. Others prefer to use the services of a retail chain provider. Retail chain providers allow access to evening and weekend appointments, eliminating lost hours at both work and school. In addition, many retail chain providers have the ability to provide eyewear within 24 hours.

Spectera's national network offers the greatest choice and convenience with a diverse network of more than 23,000 providers. The Spectera network includes private practice as well as leading retail chain providers, with evening and weekend hours available! Plus, 24-hour service is available at many locations.

Spectera partners with more than 75 national retail chains throughout the country. In fact, Spectera's network includes about 65% of the top 50 retail chains in the country.<sup>1</sup>
