

1. Approval of the minutes of the meeting of February 28, 2000.
   The February 28, 2000 minutes were approved as amended to reflect the correct attendance.

2. Motion on Conditional Admission
   The Committee approved the motion to create a conditional admission program to be effective Summer 2001. An applicant who is a non-native speaker of English and meets all admission requirements except the English proficiency requirements may be eligible for conditional admission. The minimum Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score required for conditional admission is 157 on the computer-based TOEFL or 480 on the written TOEFL. A student remains on conditional admission status until the student has met the English proficiency requirements for regular admission. A student may remain on conditional status for a maximum of three semesters. Unless granted an exception by the Chair of the Department of Applied Linguistics and English as a Second Language, a student on conditional admission status may take only Intensive English Program courses.

3. Motion on IP Grades
   The Committee approved the motion to revised the In Progress (IP) grade notation.

   The description of the uses of IP grades in the catalog shall be as follows:

   IP: In Progress
   In Learning Support Program courses, this symbol is used to indicate that a student has demonstrated academic growth in the course; however, the level of achievement is not sufficient to meet all of the course requirements. The grade of IP is a permanent grade and does not meet the minimum exit criteria for any course in learning support programs.

   In all other courses, this symbol indicates that credit has not been given in courses that require a continuation of work beyond the term for which the student registered for the course. The use of this symbol is approved for dissertation, thesis, and project courses (such as student teaching, clinical practica, and internships). The IP notation may be replaced with an appropriate grade by the instructor. This symbol cannot be substituted for an “I”.

   The current text states that the IP grade may only be used in graduate courses and is not a correct description of GSU's current practice and, so far as can be determined, was not the intent of those who passed the current text. The proposed revision removes this incorrect implication.

4. Motion on Academic Calendar for 2001-2002
   The Committee approved the 2001-02 Academic Calendar as submitted. The calendar will go to the Executive Senate Committee for approval.

Respectfully submitted,
Wanda F. Taylor
