GSU-KOREA UNIVERSITY JOINT RESEARCH SEMINAR
ON EAST ASIAN POLITICS

A Unique Opportunity for International Scholarly Exchange

At the instigation of Korea University’s Department of Political Science and its “Education and Research Corps for East Asian Studies,” GSU will host a joint research seminar on East Asian politics on January 23, 2006. Co-sponsored by the GSU Department of Political Science and the Asian Studies Center, this joint research seminar will bring together professors and graduate students from the two universities to discuss and debate topics related to East Asian politics.

The seminar will be organized as an exchange of paper presentations and include a total of 4 paper presentations (2 GSU, 2 Korea University). In order to encourage greater participation of graduate students, the paper presenters will all be graduate students. The tentative plan is to have each presenter speak for 20-30 minutes, followed by questions and general discussion.

GSU is very excited to have this opportunity to meet Korean political scientists and I would like to encourage graduate students to not only attend but to present a paper. This is a chance to meet with your counterparts in Korea, exchange ideas, network and make personal contacts for future travels and studies.

Date: January 23, 2006
Time: 1-3:30 pm
Place: GSU Student Center (precise location to be arranged)

If you are interested in participating, please contact me. The workshop will be open to the general public, but I would like to get a general idea of how many of you are interested and planning to come.

Call for papers/presenters

Add a line to your CV! Get feedback on your research and work! The GSU-Korea University joint research seminar is a great opportunity to present your work in a professional setting with colleagues from another part of the world. If you are interested in being one of the 2 presenters on the GSU side, please send me a short abstract of the paper/presentation you would like to present by December 1, 2005. The topic of the paper/presentation can be anything related to politics in East Asia (including Northeast and Southeast Asia).

I am also looking for any possible volunteers to help me the day of the seminar.

All questions and paper/presentation proposals should be directed to:
